

Gregory Sukumaran, 1st year Bachelor of Business student,
La Trobe University

You are a beacon of light
Shine it, and shine it bright
Your heart sings, your love pours
Your eternal soul, forever soars
Lead with love, and all will be well
Free yourself, from your physical hell
Know nothing shall be left undone
When you realise that we are all one
If you can be right, or always be kind
Make sure you keep, the latter in mind
Let there be love, and let there be light
Forevermore, an everlasting delight