As a student of 2020, things have definitely took a large turn! I was used to traditional classroom learning and by suddenly switching to fully online have required a few adjustments.

This year, I have come to embrace online learning and am not shy to admit that I loved it! Particularly the freedom to manage our time like watching a lecture at a later time because I am someone who's better at concentrating at sometime noon onwards than in early mornings. Regardless, I am just grateful to still be healthy and alive today.
